Now before the Court are several scheduling motions in this copyright infringement case. See ECF Nos. 32 ("Extend Time Mot."), 33 ("Discovery Mot."), 34 ("Shorten Time Mot."). Among other things, Defendants uCool, Inc. and uCool, Ltd. seek to extend the deadline to file their opposition to Plaintiff Lilith Games' motion for a preliminary injunction, ECF No. 30 ("PI Mot."). Currently that opposition brief is due tomorrow, Tuesday, May 19, 2015.

Because these numerous scheduling motions are heavily

1 intertwined and were filed just a week or less ago, the Court does 2 not have sufficient time to address them prior to the opposition
3 deadline. Furthermore, the decision of whether to grant an 4 extension of time to respond may depend on the resolution of 5 uCool's other motions.

6 Accordingly, the Court hereby STAYS briefing on the 7 preliminary injunction motion pending the Court's resolution of 8 uCool's scheduling motions. The stay affects only briefing on the 9 preliminary injunction motion, and the parties shall continue to 10 brief the remaining motions in their ordinary course. A further 11 case management order is forthcoming.

12
13 IT IS SO ORDERED.
